Dear Jim:

Thank you for the courtesy copy of the complaint filed by your client, Future Media Architects, Inc. The Respondent agrees to have this dispute heard before a three-member administrative panel as stated in the Complainant's Complaint. Respondent selects the following panelists: David E. Sorkin (NAF Arbitrator, Chicago, Illinois), G. Gervaise Davis III (NAF Arbitrator, Monterey, California) and the Honorable Harold Kalina (Ret.) (NAF Arbitrator, Minneapolis, Minnesota).

[3.] RESPONSE TO FACTUAL AND LEGAL ALLEGATIONS MADE IN COMPLAINT

Introduction

There are hundreds of airlines in the world that have been assigned International Airline Traffic Association ("IATA") codes. Complainant now requests that this Panel award it <lh.com>, its IATA code plus the .com Top-Level Domain, knowing full well that it has no right to this domain name, the LH designation is not distinctive of Complainant, and that the great majority of all airlines do not own their IATA code as a trademark or domain name. For example, of the 114 airlines registered with the IATA in the United States and Germany, only one owns their own code as a .com domain name. Ex. 1. This is American Airlines. However, "AA" is a registered trademark for American Airlines, with use dating back to 1935 (a decade prior to IATA's formation) and is not merely its IATA code. Id. Moreover, Respondent could not have acquired the <lh.com> domain name (the "Domain Name") in bad faith because it did not know that Complainant claimed any trademark rights to it. See Declaration of Thunayan Khalid AL-Ghanim, (hereinafter, "AL-Ghanim Dec.") attached hereto as Ex. 2 at ¶ 7. This is especially true in view of the fact that there are hundreds, if not thousands, of examples of entities alleging rights to the LH designation, at least a dozen of which have offered to purchase the Domain Name, with at least one offer being over 1,000,000 U.S. dollars. See Exs. 3 and 4.

Complainant presents this matter as a legitimate complaint brought by an aggrieved trademark holder. What this matter actually represents, however, is Complainant's abuse and exploitation of the Policy to vent its frustration over the fact that Respondent refused to sell its legitimately owned Domain Name to Complainant. More troubling, Complainant asks this Panel to transfer the Domain Name based on "rights" it alleges it owns by virtue of being assigned the code "LH" by an administrative agency. As explained below, upon closer examination, it is clear that not only does Complainant have no rights in the obscure LH designation (and in fact, a much weaker claim to the LH designation than others), there is no likelihood of confusion, Respondent has a legitimate interest in the Domain Name, and Respondent has not registered and used the Domain Name in bad faith.

Over a year prior to filing the underlying Complaint, Complainant tacitly recognized and admitted Respondent's rightful ownership of the Domain Name when it attempted to purchase the Domain Name. In an email of December 5, 2007 (attached hereto as Exhibit 5), a representative of Lufthansa contacted Respondent and stated "I write you on behalf of my client, Lufthansa German Airlines and understand through our intelligence that Future Media Architects Inc. is the owner of www.lh.com. Lufthansa is highly engaged on the web and interested in acquiring the above url from you. If someone could provide me with further information to open up this dialogue, I'd appreciate it."

While Complainant is quick to point to its December 13, 2006 protest letter to Respondent (Ex. B to the Complaint), Respondent's Complainant neglects to mention this offer to purchase the Domain Name, or its other attempts to enter negotiations to acquire the Domain Name with Respondent's counsel in 2007, all of which occurred subsequent to Complainant's protest letter. Apparently, Respondent's assertion that Complainant had no right to the Domain Name in its January 10, 2007 response to Complainant's protest letter (Ex. C to the Complaint) struck enough of a chord with Complainant that it sought to purchase the Domain Name—the December 5, 2007 email contains no assertion or even hint that Respondent's use of its Domain Name infringes any rights of Complainant.

As Respondent is not in the business of selling domain names, and has in fact never sold a single domain name, it has not engaged in negotiations with Complainant to sell the Domain Name. See Exhibit 2 at ¶ 2. Indeed, all emails to Respondent (including those from Complainant) are automatically replied to with the following:

Dear Sir/ Madam,

To individuals and entities interested in purchasing a domain name from FMA, we regret to advise you that pursuant to the Company's Policy and Strategic Planning, all domain names owned by Future Media Architects, Inc. are not for sale at this time. We do not anticipate this policy changing in the near future.

Regards,

In response to Complainant's long term interest in using the Domain Name, and in light of Respondent's policy not to sell domain names, Respondent had recently offered to lease the Domain Name to Complainant (the original discussions of leasing the domain name occurred prior to the filing of the underlying Complaint). Respondent and Complainant had engaged in rounds of negotiations and even exchanged multiple draft lease agreements in what Respondent believed was a good faith effort to negotiate a resolution. As part of the negotiations, Complainant had agreed to a twenty-day extension of time for Respondent to respond to the Complaint. However, when Respondent attempted to have Complainant's counsel sign the necessary form to secure the extension, they refused. Such underhanded gamesmanship is both unreasonable and a bad faith attempt on the part of Complainant to prejudice Respondent's ability to file a Response to the Complaint. Complainant has proved through its conduct that it is intent on obtaining the Domain Name "by hook or by crook," and since its threats, requests and offers to purchase the Domain Name have been unsuccessful, it has resorted to misuse of the Policy to hijack Respondent's Domain Name or exert leverage on Respondent in the negotiation of a lease arrangement.

Argument

To obtain relief under the Policy, ¶ 4(a) requires the Complainant to prove each of the following factors:

- (a) the domain name registered by the respondent is identical or confusingly similar to a trademark or service mark in which the complainant has rights; and
- (b) the respondent has no rights or legitimate interest in the domain name; and
- (c) the domain name has been registered and used in bad faith.

It is important to note that the Domain Name at issue was registered in 1995. For some reason, despite the alleged long standing rights to the Domain Name that Complainant asserts here, it has waited over a decade to protest the Domain Name's registration. Nevertheless, the 1995 registration date cannot be ignored under the Policy (as Complainant would prefer), and in assessing bad faith, the Panel must look to the time of registration, i.e., 1995. Policy, 4(a)(iii). As explained below, Complainant has failed to prove any of the required factors as of 1995—or even as of today—and the remedy sought in its Complaint should be denied.

A. Complainant Does Not Have Trademark Rights in the LH Designation and Respondent's Use of the Domain Name is Not Likely to Cause Confusion.

Complainant states that the Domain Name “is identical to and consists entirely of the mark LH, which Complainant has well established rights.” A review of Complainant's own evidence in support of this statement and the evidence presented herein proves that Complainant does not have enforceable trademark rights to the alleged LH mark, consumers do not associate the LH designation with Complainant and no likelihood of confusion exists.

Complainant disingenuously states to the Panel that its alleged rights to the LH designation are derived from Complainant's corporate name “Luft Hansa” and the International Airline Traffic Association's (“IATA”) assigning Complainant the designator code “LH” in 1945. Complaint at 4. Complainant's own evidence shows that it cannot have derived its rights from these occurrences because the entity that historically existed as “Luft Hansa” is not Complainant. The use of the two words “Luft Hansa” was discontinued in 1933. See Ex. E to the Complaint. Then, following Germany’s defeat in 1945, all service by the company then called “Lufthansa” was suspended. Id. Complainant, as it exists today, was recreated in 1953 and did not even start flying internationally until 1955—importantly, Complainant, the “new” Lufthansa of 1953, “is not the legal successor of the Lufthansa founded in 1926 and which existed during and before World War II.” Id. Complainant is attempting to claim rights to which it is not the legal successor, based on events occurring anywhere between eight and twenty years before it even existed. Id. Simply put, Complainant has no historical basis to support its alleged right to the LH designation.¹

Complainant’s more recent use of the IATA code LH does not help its case either. Use of an IATA code is not use of a brand name to identify the particular product or service of the proprietor. Assignment and use of the IATA code LH is controlled by IATA, not Complainant, and without more, does not give Complainant an ownership right over the IATA code. Like a stock ticker symbol, an IATA code is not sufficient to give rise to rights that would warrant the transfer of the Domain Name. See, e.g., The Medicis Pharmaceutical Corporation v. MRX Technologies, Inc., and Neil Gerardo, WIPO Case No. D2002-0272 (August 22, 2002); Staten Island Bancorp, Inc. v. IFG Inc. (WIPO Case No. D2003-0384) (complainant failed to provide evidence supporting its claim to trademark rights to SIB despite evidence that the press frequently used the term SIB in reference to complainant and its NYSE trading symbol was SIB).

This fact is further born out by a review of other airlines’ IATA codes. See Ex. 1. Most IATA codes do not make a coherent reference to the airline itself, for example, JetBlue Airlines, a very popular international airline, has “B6” as its IATA code. Id. Consumers do not recognize ¹ Respondent notes that as Complainant’s own evidence states that it was not founded until 1953, the statements contained in paragraphs 12, 13, 14, and 15 are entirely false. It is impossible that Complainant was unaware of these facts, which are clearly stated in Exhibit E to the Complaint, the very exhibit Complainant attempts to use to support its alleged rights. Therefore, Complainant’s certification that “the information contained in [its] Complaint is to the best of Complainant’s knowledge complete and accurate” is also false and warrants the complete denial of the relief requested in the Complaint. Rules 3(b)(xiv).

IATA codes, or associate them with their respective airlines. It is likely that most consumers are not even aware of IATA codes at all. Moreover, nearly all airlines do not use their IATA code as a domain name. Out of 114 airlines listed by way of limited example in Exhibit 1, only American Airlines has its IATA code as its primary domain name. However, American Airlines' use of "AA" goes far beyond its IATA code, it is on its airplanes, a registered U.S. trademark with use dating back to 1935 (Reg. No. 514,292) and used extensively on its website—in stark contrast to Complainant's alleged use of LH, which is at best, de minimus. Most airlines do not own the domain name that consists of their IATA code plus the .com Top-Level Domain. See Ex. 1.

Complainant also ignores its assigned code from a second international aviation organization, the International Civil Aviation Organization ("ICAO"). Ex. E and F to the Complaint. The ICAO is a UN Specialized Agency and is the global forum for civil aviation. Ex. F to the Complaint. The ICAO, similarly to the IATA, works to achieve its vision of safe, secure and sustainable development of civil aviation. Id. ICAO has assigned Complainant the designation "DLH." Ex. E to the Complaint. It is just as unlikely that consumers associate the DLH designation with Complainant as it is that they would associate LH with Complainant. The only difference between DLH and LH is that Complainant seeks to start a marketing campaign around LH, and not DLH. Complainant does not own dlh.com, and has no more right to that domain name than it does to lh.com.² Upon information and belief, Complainant reveals its true designs to launch a newly conceived marketing strategy on Respondent's 13 year old Domain Name because Complainant's main site, www.lufthansa.com, now redirects to http://www.lufthansa.com/online/portal/LH_COM.

Furthermore, the LH designation is not deserving of the broad protection Complainant seeks. The letters "LH" could represent many organizations, serve as an acronym for a nearly infinite number of expressions or comprise a significant number of persons' initials. A review of the Acronyms, Initialisms & Abbreviations Dictionary reveals 77 entries for LH that are not related to Complainant. Ex. 6. Countless more abbreviations exist that begin with “LH.” Id.

In addition to the rights claimed by Complainant, there are a number of other parties making frequent and varied use of LH. See Exhibits 3 and 7. A quick search of the United States, German and Community Trademark databases reveals 96 active applications or registrations that incorporate “LH” in some fashion. Id. Despite Complainant’s alleged longstanding rights to its “famous” LH mark, Complainant only owns the few registrations mentioned in the Complaint, all of which issued after the registration of the Domain Name. As the Domain Name predates the registration date of Complainant’s trademark registrations, they cannot support its UDRP claim. See Chum Ltd. v. Kashchum Café and Much Rendezvous/Kasra Meshkin, AF-0984 (eResolution Oct. 26, 2001) (holding that Complainant’s registration date for its trademark was more than two years after the domain name registration and thus Complainant did not have enforceable in a UDRP proceeding).

Many others would appear to dispute Complainant’s claim of right to the LH designation as they too own rights in the LH designation. See Exs. 3 and 7. For instance, Hypertherm, Inc. owns U.S. Registration No. 2,986,963 for LH. Macy’s, Inc. also owns U.S. Registration No. 919,577 for LH with a claimed first use date of 1918. Ex. 7. Even in Europe—where Complainant alleges it owns registrations for its LH mark—other entities also claim rights to the LH designation. There are 33 German registrations and applications that incorporate LH in some manner. Id. Indeed, there is one German registration for “d.l.h.”, Complainant’s ICAO code, which further shows that Complainant cannot claim ownership of codes assigned to it by independent aviation commissions. Id. These marks, plus numerous other “LH registrations” are listed in Exhibits 3 and 7. These facts render Complainant’s assertion that LH is its “internationally known and famous trademark and service mark” (Complaint at pg. 5) meritless. Far from having any strong claim to exclusive rights to the LH designation as Complainant would lead this Panel to believe, Complainant shares the mark with entities around the world, and has a notable absence of any rights to the alleged mark in the United States where Respondent's .com Top-Level Domain Name is based. In addition, each of these entities is using LH with goods and services as different from those covered by Complainant's alleged rights as those offered by Respondent. Consequently, it is clear that any rights to LH Complainant may possess are able to coexist without confusion with numerous other entities, including Respondent.

Finally, any rights in LH which Complainant may claim, or allegations of confusion, are further weakened as a result of the significant period of co-existence with Respondent's Domain Name. The Domain Name was registered in 1995. See Exhibit A to the Complaint. Accordingly, the Domain Name and Complainant's alleged LH trademark have been peacefully coexisting for over a decade. It is striking that, despite alleging rights dating back to 1945—ignoring the fact that Complainant did not exist at the time—Complainant made no attempt whatsoever to assert its alleged rights until now. In fact, Complainant made no attempt to even contact Respondent until 2006.³ See Exhibit B to the Complaint. Moreover, Complainant did not even obtain a trademark registration for its alleged LH mark until 1999, well after the registration of the Domain Name. Complaint's assertion that its filing of the Complaint is motivated by a sincere desire to protect its rights, as opposed to an attempt to harass and coerce an uncooperative domain name owner, is unsustainable.

B. Respondent Has Rights and a Legitimate Interests with Respect to the Domain Name

Complainant asserts that Respondent has no right nor legitimate interest in the Domain Name. Complaint at pgs. 7-10. This is incorrect. In fact, Respondent acquired and began using the domain name to redirect consumers to its own search engine located at oxide.com before it received notice of Complainant's alleged rights. See Exhibit 2, AL-Ghanim Dec. at ¶¶ 6 and 7.

Accordingly, and pursuant to Paragraph 4(c)(i) of the Policy, Respondent has a legitimate right and interest in the Domain Name.

³ Complainant fails to explain why, if the LH designation is so important, it registered <lufthansa.com> in 1996 (See Exhibit 8 attached hereto) but made no attempt to acquire <lh.com> until 2006 when it first contacted Respondent.

Complainant alleges, without support, that Respondent's use of its Domain Name to generate traffic to its OXiDE search engine is not legitimate. Not only is providing a search engine service and traffic generation legitimate, it is a major business practice of many internet businesses, including perhaps most famously, Google and Yahoo. Indeed, in Kiwi European Holdings B.V. v. Future Media Architects, Inc., WIPO Case No. D2004-0848, Respondent's use of a domain name for the purpose of redirecting traffic to its web directory for revenue was held to be a legitimate use. See also, Toronto Star Newspapers Limited v. Virtual Dates Inc., WIPO Case No. D2000-1612 (although complainant owned trademark TSTV, respondent had a legitimate interest in <tstv.com> when that domain name was used to auto-redirect or take the user to another domain name or website owned by an unrelated third party..."); Target Brands, Inc. v. Eastwind Group, FA0405000267475 (Nat'l Arbitration Forum July 9, 2004) (finding that respondent had rights and legitimate interests in TARGET.ORG despite providing advertising links to competitors of complainant, a famous retailer); Mess Enterprises v. Scott Enterprises Ltd., WIPO D2004-0964 (denying transfer where domain name was used to post third-party pay-per-click advertising links); The Knot, Inc. v. Ali Aziz, WIPO Case No. D2007-1006 (refusing to transfer domain name <myknot.com> used as a website directory of third-party pay-per-click advertising links).

The crux of Complainant's argument that Respondent's conduct is not legitimate is that it is allegedly trading off of the goodwill of Complainant's LH designation and that the Domain Name was registered in bad faith. However, this circular argument takes for granted that Complainant owns exclusive, or at least broadly protectable, rights to the LH designation and Respondent's knowledge of the same and bad faith upon acquiring the Domain Name. For all of the reasons stated herein, this is not true, and was certainly not true when the Domain Name was registered.

Complainant's request that the Panel ignore the plain language of the Policy that requires the Panel to conduct its analysis in light of the date of registration should be rejected. Again, Complainant seeks to twist the Policy to serve its own needs because it recognizes that under a proper analysis, which accounts for the fact that Complainant seeks transfer of a domain name registered in over a decade ago, its case is not winnable.

C. The Domain Name Was Not Registered or Used In Bad Faith.

A simple reading of the Policy at Paragraphs 4(b)(i-iv) indicates that intent is a critical element necessary to support a claim of bad faith registration and use of a domain name. Paragraph 4(b)(i-iv) requires a use and registration which was “primarily for the purpose of”, “in order to”, and “intentionally attempted” to harm the Complainant’s rights. Respondent submits that the indisputable facts surrounding this matter make clear that there is no bad faith on the part of Respondent.

Respondent is a company organized and existing under the laws of the British Virgin Islands. Respondent’s business is as an Internet development company specializing in the development of its own Internet properties, Internet portals and technology, including its OXiDE search engine. See Exhibit 2, AL-Ghanim Dec. at ¶ 2. Accordingly, Complainant asks the Panel to find, despite the clear facts to the contrary and the sworn statement of Respondent herein, that an Internet company located in the British Virgin Islands purchased a domain name, based on its knowledge of Complainant’s obscure history and an independently assigned administrative airline code, with the intent to trade off the goodwill of Complainant. This position is unsupportable.

As detailed above, Complainant’s alleged rights are weak at best, and its derives support for those rights from a company that it is not legally related too. Nevertheless, even taking Complainant’s allegations at face value, the LH designation is simply an obscure part of Complainant’s history, that is just as unknown to consumers as are other facts contained in Complainant’s exhibits, for example, that Lufthansa was “always the favorite air carrier of Adolf Hitler and, later, was the official airline of the Nazi party.” Ex. E to the Complaint. The bottom line is that the LH designation is Complainant’s assigned IATA code and not a part of its corporate identity—use of the IATA code in connection with flight numbers notwithstanding.

Indeed, Complainant's own evidence describing its history, including the history of its brand, does not once mention use of the LH designation as a trademark. See Ex. E to the Complaint.

It is clear that the facts of this case do not support a finding of bad faith under any of the factors found at Paragraph 4(b) of the Policy. As Respondent has made clear, it refused to sell the Domain Name to Complainant, despite Complainant first approaching Respondent with an offer to purchase it, as selling domain names is not its business. In fact, Respondent has never sold a single one of the over 100,000 domain names it owns. See Exhibit 2, AL-Ghanim Dec. at ¶ 2. By obvious inference, Complainant has no intention of selling the Domain Name to any competitor of Complainant. In fact, despite numerous offers (including one for over $1,000,000) to purchase the Domain Name from various parties, Complainant still has refused to sell the Domain Name. Ex. 4. A finding of bad faith under Paragraph 4(b)(i) is therefore unsupportable. Respondent has not registered the Domain Name to prevent Complainant from doing so. As indicated, Respondent was not even aware that Complainant believed it owned the LH designation until Complainant first contacted Respondent. See Exhibit 2, AL-Ghanim Dec. at ¶ 7. Bad faith, therefore, cannot be found under 4(b)(ii). Complainant and Respondent are not competitors and do not exist in even remotely similar business universes. Paragraph 4(b)(iii) is therefore inapplicable.

Finally, Respondent could not have registered the Domain Name to intentionally create a likelihood of confusion as, again, Respondent was not even aware of Complainant's alleged claim to the LH designation. In addition, the goods and services offered by Complainant and Respondent are not even remotely similar, and certainly no more similar than any of the goods and services offered by the various other parties already mentioned who make use of LH. The chance of "a likelihood of confusion with the Complainant's mark LH as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or endorsement of Respondent's web site" is not even a remote possibility. A determination of bad faith therefore cannot be found under Paragraph 4(b)(iv). Consequently, the facts of this matter do not support a finding of bad faith under any of the factors listed in Paragraph 4(b) of the Policy.

Complainant intimates that a finding of bad faith should be based on the fact that the Respondent owns over 100,000 domain names. Complaint at pg. 8. Complainant goes on to cite to three previous UDRP decisions in matters involving Respondent. Id. at 8-9. Complainant's implication that there is a pattern of improper conduct at hand is completely unsupported by fact. Despite this significant number of domain names owned, only a handful have been ordered transferred. In addition, Complainant fails to mention UDRP decisions where Respondent prevailed, because there, as here, a party attempted to improperly use the Policy to hijack one of Respondent's legitimately owned domain names. See, e.g., YIT Corporation v. Future Media Architects Inc. (WIPO Case No. D2007-0588) (Panel denied transfer of <yit.com> and <yit.net>); BAWAG P.S.K. v. Future Media Architects, Inc. (WIPO Case No. D2006-0534) (Panel denied transfer of <psk.com>); Kiwi European Holdings B.V. v. Future Media Architects, Inc. (Panel denied transfer of <kiwi.com>). In BAWAG, the Panel found that "the Complainant has failed to prove that the domain name was registered and is being used in bad faith" and further stated that "there does not seem to be any obvious intent to create confusion with, or trade on the goodwill of" the Complainant. Accordingly, far from any pattern or intent to engage in improper use of domain names, it is clear that the three previous matters quoted by Complainant represent an aberration against a vast body of domain names which exist without complaint.

Respondent's <lh.com> Domain Name is obviously a two-letter domain name. As a company specializing in various forms of Internet based commerce, Respondent is fully aware of the inherent value that two-letter domain names have in and of themselves and regardless of their association with any party. This value is due largely to the fact that two-letter domain names are short and easy to remember. See Exhibit 2, AL-Ghanim Dec. at ¶ 3. Moreover, two-letter domain names in the .com top-level domain are no longer available. Accordingly, Respondent has regularly acquired as many unclaimed random two-letter domain names as possible. See id. at ¶ 4. In doing so, Respondent has been motivated solely by the desire to acquire and use available random two-letter domain names to market its websites. See id. Respondent does not intend to infringe or free ride on the goodwill of any trademark that may have been allegedly associated with any of the two-letter domain names. See id. at ¶ 5. Consequently, there can be no finding of bad faith in the present matter as there can be no finding of intent.

Complainant's intent in this matter is to manipulate the Policy to convince the Panel to order the transfer of the Domain Name—an asset of Respondent with a potential seven-figure value. In doing so, it asks the Panel to (1) overlook the weakness of its alleged mark and the inconsistencies and outright falsehoods in its Complaint; (2) overlook the extensive period of coexistence between Respondent's Domain Name and Complainant's alleged mark; (3) overlook Complainant's own offers to purchase the Domain Name; (4) believe Complainant is entitled to a domain name for a mark it appears it only began using in advertising campaigns in 2006 (Complaint at 5-6); (5) credit that Complainant legitimately believes it is being harmed by a domain name it waited over a decade to protest; (6) disregard the use and registration of LH by numerous third parties; and (7) assume a pattern of conduct exists because Respondent has had a few of its over 100,000 domain names transferred.

Surely, the facts of this matter and the Policy do not support transfer of Respondent's Domain Name.

[4.] OTHER LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Since the filing of this Complaint, and in part based on Complainant's allegation in the Complaint that Respondent violates the Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act, 15 U.S.C. § 43(d), Respondent has filed a litigation against Complainant in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (Case No. 08 CV 02801) seeking a judgment that: (1) Respondent has not violated any rights of Complainant with the registration and use of the Domain Name; and (2) that Complainant has no protectable rights in the LH designation. See Ex. 9.

When a legal proceeding regarding a disputed domain name is initiated during an administrative proceeding, Paragraph 18(a) of the Rules provides that the Panel has the discretion to decide whether to suspend or terminate the proceeding. McNeil Ohio Corp. v. Nat'l Advertising, Inc., WIPO Case No. D2001-0409 (holding legal proceeding initiated during the UDRP proceeding warranted that the Panel terminate the UDRP proceeding). As the court action is premised upon the exact same facts and circumstances at issue here, Respondent respectfully requests that the Panel terminate or suspend this proceeding pending the outcome of the court action.

[5.] RESPONSE TRANSMISSION

The Respondent asserts that a copy of the Response, as prescribed by NAF's Supplemental Rules, has been sent or transmitted to the Complainant, in accordance with ICANN Rule 2(b), ICANN Rule 5(b)(vii); NAF Supp. Rule 5.

[6.] REMEDY SOUGHT

The Respondent respectfully requests that the Administrative Panel deny the remedy requested by the Complainant.

[7.] CERTIFICATION

Respondent certifies that the information contained in this Response is to the best of Respondent's knowledge complete and accurate, that this Response is not being presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass, and that the assertions in this Response are warranted under these Rules and under applicable law, as it now exists or as it may be extended by a good-faith and reasonable argument.

NATIONAL ARBITRATION FORUM

Deutsche Lufthansa AG

(Complainant)

Case No.: FA0802001153492

-v-

Disputed Domain Name:

Future Media Architects, Inc.

<lh.com>

(Respondent)

DECLARATION OF THUNAYAN KHALID AL-GHANIM

I, Thunayan Khalid AL-Ghanim, declare as follows:

1. I am the founder and Chief Executive Officer of Future Media Architects, Inc. ("FMA").

FMA is a company organized under the laws of the British Virgin Islands and has a mailing address of P.O. Box 71, Roadtown, Tortola, British Virgin Islands.

2. FMA is an Internet development company specializing in the development of its own Internet properties, Internet portals and technology, including its OXiDE search engine. FMA maintains over 100,000 domain names. FMA is not in the business of selling domain names and has never sold any of its domain names. Moreover, FMA has not engaged in negotiations with Complainant to sell lh.com. All emails to FMA receive an automated message informing the sender that FMA's domain name are not for sale. A true and correct example of this automated message is attached hereto.

3. Based on my experience, it is my opinion that two-letter domain names have a great deal of inherent value in and of themselves and regardless of any potential association with any particular party. Two-letter domain names enjoy this significant value in large part because they are short and easy to remember.

TKG

4. Accordingly, FMA has regularly acquired as many unclaimed random two-letter domain names as possible. In doing so, FMA has been motivated solely by the desire to acquire and use available random two-letter domain names to market its websites.

5. FMA does not intend to infringe or free ride on the goodwill of any trademark that may have been allegedly associated with any of the two-letter domain names.

6. After it acquired lh.com, FMA began using the domain name to redirect consumers to its own search engine located at oxide.com long before it received notice of Complainant's alleged rights.

7. Prior to receiving notice from Complainant, FMA was unaware of Complainant's alleged rights in and to the letters "lh". When FMA acquired the lh.com domain name, FMA did not have Complainant in mind.

8. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed: March 24, 2008

Thunayan Khalid AL-Ghanim

Dear Sir/ Madam,

To individuals and entities interested in purchasing a domain name from FMA, we regret to advise you that pursuant to the Company's Policy and Strategic Planning, all domain names owned by Future Media Architects, Inc. are not for sale at this time. We do not anticipate this policy changing in the near future.

Regards,

Thunayan Khalid AL-Ghanim
Founder/CEO FMA

Hello,

A friend of mine noticed that you guys aren't doing anything with the domain name lh.com, and wanted me to contact you guys about how much you wanted for it.

She's asked me to contact a few different domains to make a little personal site, so if you can get back to me ASAP it would be very much appreciated! Thanks!

Cheers

Hello there,

I am writing to inquire into the availability of your domain lh.com

If it is available, I am prepared to pay the sum of $125,000 for ownership of the domain.

This is a serious offer, if you are not responsible for making the decision, please forward this e-mail to the correct point of contact.

I can make the payment by bank wire, but usually prefer to use Escrow.com as an intermediary for mutual security. If you are adverse to this for whatever reason, we could discuss alternatives. I'd also be willing to set up mail forwarding for 3 months should you require it, affording you time to inform your contacts of the change.

I'd appreciate it if you could get back to me on your decision either way. I want to reassure you that the transfer procedure is extremely simple, and I'd be happy to guide you through it every step of the way. It is a very efficient procedure and will not use up much of your time.

Thank you for your attention and it would be great to hear back from you.

Regards,

Andy

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

FUTURE MEDIA ARCHITECTS, INC.,

Plaintiff,

v.

DEUTSCHE LUFTHANSA AG,

Defendant.

Case No.:

JURY TRIAL REQUESTED

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff Future Media Architects, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "FMA" or "Plaintiff"), by its attorneys, Kenyon & Kenyon LLP, as and for its Complaint against defendant Deutsche Lufthansa AG (hereinafter referred to as "Lufthansa" or "Defendant"), alleges as follows, upon knowledge with respect to itself and its own acts, and upon information and belief as to all other matters:

Nature of Action and Subject Matter Jurisdiction

1. This is a declaratory judgment action arising under the trademark laws of the United States and the Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1051 et seq. By this action, FMA seeks a declaratory judgment that: (1) its ownership of the domain name <www.lh.com> does not violate any alleged rights owned by Lufthansa; and (2) any trademark rights in and to the phrase "lh" allegedly owned by Lufthansa are invalid, void and/or otherwise unenforceable.

2. Subject matter jurisdiction over this action is conferred upon this Court:

(i) pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202, because it involves a request for declaratory judgment in a case of actual controversy; and (ii) pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338, and 15 U.S.C. §§ 1114 and 1125, because, inter alia, the suit concerns rights under the Lanham Act.

Personal Jurisdiction and Venue

This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant, and venue is properly laid in the Southern District of New York, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391, in that, on information and belief, Defendant is doing and transacting business within this District; has substantial contacts with and/or may be found in this District; and/or a substantial portion of the events at issue have arisen and continue to occur in this Judicial District, among others.

The Parties

3. Plaintiff FMA is an Internet development company with a business address at P.O. Box 71, Road Town, Tortola, British Virgin Islands.

4. On information and belief, Defendant Lufthansa is a German Corporation with addresses at Von-Gablenz-Strasse 2-6, 50679 Koln, Germany and 1640 Hempstead Turnpike, East Meadow, NY 11554.

Background of the Controversy

5. FMA is a leading Internet development company. It develops its own Internet properties, Internet portals and technology.

6. FMA's own development projects include, for example:

MP3.tv, a music community portal that was launched by FMA in January 2002. This website enjoys hits from well over 30,000 unique visitors a day from more than 120 countries.

DJ.net, a portal for DJs who require a web presence and want to network with other professionals in their industry. This site was launched by FMA in February 2003 and is also available as a search engine to locate a DJ.

OXIDE.com, FMA's own search engine.

7. FMA does not do development for third parties.

8. As part of its business, FMA is the owner of approximately 100,000 domain names.

9. FMA does not sell its domain names, and does not purchase domain names with the intention of selling them.

10. In fact, anyone contacting FMA regarding the purchase of a domain name is automatically sent the following email:

Dear Sir/ Madam,

To individuals and entities interested in purchasing a domain name from FMA, we regret to advise you that pursuant to the Company's Policy and Strategic Planning, all domain names owned by Future Media Architects, Inc. are not for sale at this time. We do not anticipate this policy changing in the near future.

11. One of the domain names owned by FMA is <www.lh.com> (the "Domain Name").

12. FMA has received numerous offers to purchase the Domain Name, including at least one offer of one million dollars or more.

13. Despite the significant amount of money offered for the Domain Name, FMA has not sold the domain name.

14. One such entity that has offered to purchase the domain name, although for an undetermined price, is Lufthansa.

15. Lufthansa first contact FMA regarding the Domain Name approximately two years ago.

16. As per its policy, FMA did not enter negotiations to sell the Domain Name.

17. Since first contacting FMA, Lufthansa has periodically contacted FMA or its attorneys at Kenyon & Kenyon seeking to negotiate the sale or transfer of the Domain Name to Lufthansa.

18. FMA has steadfastly refused to sell the Domain Name to Lufthansa, or any other party.

19. On or about February 25, 2008 Lufthansa filed a U.D.R.P. Complaint against FMA seeking a forced transfer of the Domain Name to Lufthansa (Case Number FA0802001153492).

20. In support of its U.D.R.P. Complaint, Lufthansa alleges, inter alia, that:

(1) it owns the “internationally known and famous trademark and service mark LH”;

(2) FMA’s use of the Domain Name creates a likelihood of confusion with Lufthansa’s alleged LH mark;

(3) FMA has no right to the Domain Name; and

(4) FMA registered the Domain Name in bad faith.

21. FMA’s ownership of the Domain Name does not infringe any rights that Lufthansa may allegedly own.

22. FMA has never had a bad faith intent to profit from the Domain Name or exercised bad faith in any manner.

23. FMA did not register the Domain Name in bad faith.

24. FMA has a right to own and use the Domain Name as it did not register it in bad faith.

25. Lufthansa's alleged LH mark is not distinctive now, and was not distinctive when FMA registered the Domain Name.

26. Luftansa's alleged LH mark is not famous now, and was not famous when FMA registered the Domain Name.

27. Lufthansa does not have any protectable rights to its alleged LH mark in the United States.

28. FMA's ownership of the Domain Name is not likely to cause confusion with any rights allegedly owned by Lufthansa.

29. FMA has always believed, and continues to believe that the use of the domain name was a fair use or otherwise lawful, as the term "lh" is not distinctive of any one source or entity.

30. In light of the facts averred above, FMA has a reasonable apprehension that Lufthansa will initiate a trademark infringement and/or cybersquatting suit against it, claiming that FMA is infringing Lufthansa's alleged rights by its ownership of the Domain Name.

31. Furthermore, FMA is entitled to United States Federal Court review of its rights to the Domain Name under 15 U.S.C. § 1114(2)(d)(v); as the Domain Name has been suspended and placed outside of the control of FMA as a result of the U.D.R.P. proceeding.

32. Thus, an actual and justiciable controversy concerning FMA's ownership of the Domain Name exists between FMA and Lufthansa.

COUNT I

DECLARATION THAT FMA'S OWNERSHIP OF THE DOMAIN NAME DOES VIOLATE ANY OF LUFTHANSA'S ALLEGED RIGHTS

33. FMA repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 32 of this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

34. By reason of the existence of an actual and justiciable controversy as discussed herein, FMA is entitled to a declaratory judgment that its ownership of the Domain Name does not violate any rights owned by Lufthansa. Accordingly, FMA seeks a declaration of the Court that its ownership of the Domain Name does not violate any rights owned by Lufthansa.

COUNT II

DECLARATION THAT LUFTHANSA'S ALLEGED LH MARK IS INVALID, VOID AND/OR OTHERWISE UNENFORCEABLE

35. FMA repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 34 of this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

36. By reason of the existence of an actual and justiciable controversy as discussed herein, FMA is entitled to a declaratory judgment that any trademark rights in and to the phrase "lh" allegedly owned by Lufthansa are invalid, void and/or otherwise unenforceable. Accordingly, FMA seeks a declaration of the Court that any trademark rights in and to the phrase "lh" allegedly owned by Lufthansa are invalid, void and/or otherwise unenforceable.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff FMA demands judgment against Defendant Lufthansa for:

- A. a declaration of the Court that FMA's ownership of the Domain Name does not violate any rights owned by Lufthansa;
- B. a declaration of the Court that any trademark rights in and to the phrase "lh" allegedly owned by Lufthansa are invalid, void and/or otherwise unenforceable
- C. an injunction prohibiting Lufthansa from alleging or threatening that FMA's use of the Domain Name or the term "lh" does violate any federal, state, or common law trademark rights owned by Lufthansa, including without limitation, prohibiting Lufthansa from seeking transfer of the Domain Name via U.D.R.P. or any other means;
- D. requiring Lufthansa to account and pay over to FMA all damages sustained by FMA;
- E. an award of costs and reasonable attorneys' fees; and
- F. such other and further relief as the Court may deem equitable and proper.
